ii) Master of Social Work

The Department of Social Work is established in 1995 and belongs to the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences. Department offers post graduate programme in Social work (MSW). The Social Work programme offers interdisciplinary academic and research possibilities that critically opens up local and global discourses on health, development and marginalization, gender, and family, identity, rights and justice. The field practicum component, which is an integral part of the MSW curriculum, offers opportunities for the students to spend time in close proximity with communities, NGOS and various social movements. Such close association lays the foundation for critical and alternative perspectives on one's own society. The course thus will provide the students with strong theoretical underpinnings and expose them to the dynamics and complexities of the social world.

The Social Work discipline and profession aims at planning and implementation of social policies, services and programmes needed to meet basic human needs and to support the development of human capacities and abilities. It facilitates change (1) within the individual in relation to his/her social environment; (2) of the social environment in its effect upon the individual; (3) of both the individual and social environment in their interaction. The ultimate aim of social work is to promote or restore a mutually beneficial interaction __inter', __intra' individual, and society in order to improve the quality of life for everyone.

The social work training and profession, despite having an existence of more than seventy five years in the country has progressed at snail's pace. It is still a yet to be developed profession and only very little effort has been made to make it indigenous or Indian. The profession still holds the theoretical and practical foundations of the west and has not made appropriate Indian adaptations. The picture is same in the context of Kerala and people consider it an alien profession. Hence an effort to acculturate and adapt the modern professional concepts and practices of social work to be conversant with the diverse socio-cultural and political realities of South Asia is a long pending plea and needs a pioneering initiation and continuous effort. At Sree Sankaracharya University of Sanskrit we are committed to nurturing an ever evolving discipline which is sensitive to the indigenous knowledge production, and at the same time open to the global initiatives in this area.

The Sree Sankaracharya University of Sanskrit was initiated and formed for the preservation and promotion of social and cultural heritage of India in general and Kerala in specific. The methodological approach was Interdisciplinary collaboration and indigenization of the traditional and modern theoretical and academic discourses in knowledge generation and dissemination for the betterment of the society. The sociological and geopolitical ecology around the University is of a rural village inhabited by the middle and working class people. The Department makes use of all opportunities in engaging various extension activities in and around the campus. The post graduate programme offered by the Department (MSW) is recognized by the social work accreditation councils of UK, USA, Australia, Canada, and New Zealand. Our students get their recognitions and accreditations in these countries on the basis of the verification of the course modules they have done in the University and the field practicum they have done here in the programmes. There are a number of students who have got their professional career in social work in these countries and some of them also pursue their higher education programmes on the basis of the PG programmes offered by our department.
